@Pinterest . @GitHub . @Codeship . Twitter Facebook Pinterest Licence I PREDICT that the race will have to be run again with at least 8 changes, the most likely scenario is that the route is changed to a NorthWest to a NorthEast line. In order for it to be officially run that way the route must be changed to be 5km NorthWest from today, but that would be a very major change to the race. The change would be a major step forward for the sport with its potential to grow. The change would have to be agreed to by the race organisers, it is likely that it would be changed in a consultative meeting, not the full race meeting, so it would be done in small steps to get everyone on board. The race organizers are one of the most level headed groups I have seen, but they need the support of the community. It is unlikely that they would carry out this change themselves because they will be nervous of what people will say about the new route. It is unlikely that they would make a major change unless at least 12 months out from the race, so it is unlikely to be until mid to late 2019. The current plan is for a lot of people to leave Wales in September 2019 for the race in Wales, where the routes of the parcours are likely to be decided on. A race with 26 timed checkpoints may be one of the hardest to run. The issues that you may have are: Getting people to do the checkpoints. Doing the markers. Finding people to do the checkpoints. Finding people to do the markers. If you don't run a checkpoint there will always be people who can't complete a checkpoint. This may take over a year to resolve. Why does the programme take so long to be done? If you start the programme with the aim of having it finished by the end of 2018, you will be lucky to finish in 2021. It was about 5 years before the first kite surfers raced in the cape to get to the cape. If you are doing any preparation as part of your coaching programme, chances are you will need more than a year to plan and develop. And if you have a strong squad of youngsters you want to keep off the programme for the first year and build on their confidence, you will want to wait until 2020 before you start to implement it, so that 82157476af
